THE SOLEMNITY OF THE MOST HOLY TRINITY

“Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And behold, I am with you always, until the end of the age.” - Mt 28:19-20

Trinity: God as Community

Alfred McBride, O. Praem.

Article #12

“Keep for me this treasure for which I live and do battle, I mean the profession of faith in the Father, Son and Holy Spirit.” St. Gregory Nazianzen, Catechism, 256.

Millions of people love mystery stories. They read Agatha Christie and watch Murder She Wrote. Other mysteries, like the extinction of the dinosaurs, intrigue us because they have not been solved. Our faith encounters another mystery, God as a Holy Trinity. We believe God is Trinity because He told us. Jesus teaches us God is Father. At the Last Supper Jesus spoke of God as Father 45 times. In turn the Father tells us He has a Son. When Jesus was baptized in the Jordan, the Father spoke from heaven and said, “You are my beloved Son; with you I am well pleased” (Lk 4:22). Lastly, God is Holy Spirit. Jesus said, “I will ask my Father and he will give you another Advocate, the Spirit of truth” (Jn 14:16). The Holy Spirit is more than an abstract energy; He is a divine Person. God is Father, Son, and Spirit. God is one divine nature in three divine Persons.

The Ecumenical Councils of Nicaea and Constantinople

Person and nature began to be used to speak of the Trinity at the ecumenical Councils of Nicaea in 325, and Constantinople in 381. Arius, a priest, was preaching that Jesus was not divine. He taught that God created a Logos, a Word, through which He made the world. When the world needed redemption, the created Word took flesh in Jesus. To reward Him for His fine work, God “adopted” Jesus and made Him a minor divinity to be honored more than other people. Three hundred and eighteen bishops attended the Council of Nicaea to counter Arius. The Nicene Creed was the result and it taught that Jesus, the Word made flesh, was of the same divine substance as the Father and not a created minor divinity. The Arians began to teach that the Holy Spirit was not God because the Creed did not state that He was. So the bishops held another Council at Constantinople and explicitly taught the Spirit was God. “We believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life.” This was already what Scripture taught. The faith of the Church always held it. The Councils were needed to reaffirm it. In our own day, the Catechism of the Catholic Church is needed to spell this out again. God is a Trinity of three divine Persons in one divine nature. God is love. The Father loves the Son. The Son loves the Father. The Spirit is the love between them—so real and dynamic that the Spirit is a divine Person. Community occurs in the Trinity and models communal love for us.

Reflection

1. How important is the teaching about the Trinity?

The mystery of the Holy Trinity is the central mystery of our faith and Christian life. God alone can give us a true and full knowledge of himself in revealing himself as Father, Son, and Spirit (Catechism, 261).

2. Which sacrament first brings us to the Trinity?

By the grace of Baptism in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, we are called to partake in the life of the Holy Trinity here below in the darkness of faith, and after death in eternal light (Catechism, 265).

3. Which Councils give us the teaching about the Trinity?

The Councils of Nicaea in 325 and Constantinople in 381 affirmed the teaching of Scripture and the continuous faith of the Church from apostolic times about the Trinity. The bishops proclaimed the Trinity as One God, with one divine nature shared by three distinct divine Persons (cf. Catechism, 242).

Prayer

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit. As it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Jesus invites us: "Can you stay awake with me one hour?"
